FUTURE!

Yes! Your neighbors will be amazed as the robotic emissary you just built roams through the neighborhood. Imagine the stunned look on their faces as your bright and shining construction examines the world with fresh eyes of the newly born. This robot looms six feet tall, its surface shining in the sun. Made with real metal parts it has joints that move!

This unique and mysteriously constructed orb holds the secret of the future! Peer beneath its surface through the strange liquid and swirling odd particles and you might catch a glimpse of the coming of the Robotic Overlords!
